

ALEXANDRIA.

TUES SY EVENING MARCH 26. THE LATEST scheme for giving respecta willies to the republican party in the South has been conceived and resorted to in Alabarra. It is to induce all the old whige in that State to leave the democratic party, with which they have been compelled to act and those who e purses still hold out are a once the war in order to prevent negro domination, and endorse the Hamison administration. But it will be as unsuccessful a suy of the many others that have been teriy tried before. Were it not for the large and grawing negro population in the South, the white people of this section would divide on political questions as they do in the ideas concerning the value of endorsements. North, but as white division in the South means negro supremacy, this section must remain solid as long as the race question shall be unsettled, and until then the republican party of the South will continue to be e imposed chiefly of negroes and of such white men as, to get office, would risk the min of all the other people of their section.

REV. DR. JAEGER, of Lynchburg, is now on a mission to New York to raise funds for the establishment of a negro orphan asylum and industrial school in his city. It really sooms as if there is hardly a single idea cone ived in the South, for the materialization of which appeals are not made to the North. This incersant begging will necessarily create the impression at the North, where him to return, was, in consequence of a law the true condition of Southern affairs is unknown, that the people of the South are a nation of beggers. However, as the North deprived the negro orphans in the South of their homes and their industrial as well as moral teachers, it should not hesitate to do something in their behalf, and so there is less objection to Dr. Jaeger's mission than to any one of the many that have preceded it.

"THE COURTESY of the Senate" was as signed as the reason for rejecting Mr. Cleveland's nomination of a Virginia editor who had adversely criticised, as they well deserved to be, some of the public acts of some of the republican Senators. There is hardly a single Southern Sanator whose personal charac ter, as well as public conduct, has not been assailed and traduced by editor Whitelaw Reid, and yet so far was the courtesy of the Senate from rejecting his nomination, that even several Southern Senators voted for its confirmation. But such things have nowadays cea ed to be cause for special wonder.

MR TOURGEE, in the Forum for April, in an a ticle on the fight the white people of the South are making against negro dominancy, and consequently against the ruin and destruction of all the moral as well as the material interests of this section, says: "It is not valor alone that counts, nor excellence of equipment that assures victory. In such a conflict, a box of matches is equal to a hundred Winchester rifles." And yet the New York Herald says the people of the South are entirely too nervous about the race question in their section.

GEN NEAL DOW, the great prohibition leader in Maine, in a recent letter, says "the people of his State never see or hear the word failure in connection with the probib itory system." But the Gen. as well everybody else knows that in the city of Portland alone there are over one hundred places where liquor is sold. Mr. Daw is supposed to be a reputable man, but by what evstem of casuistry his words can be made to comport with his knowledge in respect of the matter referred to is hard to tell.

THE NEW YORK republican newspapers are among the most viru'ent denouncers of the South for its alleged crooked elections. And yet the republican Speaker of the republican Assembly of New York has just publicly acknowledged in that body that the S ate republican committee sent him a large sum of money with which he bought the 'qu's ionable" vote of his county at last fall's election.

THE WASHINGTON Post says the suggestion that the doors of the national Soldiers' Homes be thrown open to indigent ex-Confederates comes from the Southern press. Oh, no! The appeal to the North for aid for a Confederate Home came from the South. That was ball enough, in all cousciouce. The suggestion referred to emanated from the North.

St. Nicholas for April has been received from its publishers in New York. Among its contents are in tractive acticles on Ancient and Modern Artillery, by Liout. Hamilton, and on the Routine of the Republic, by Edmund Alton.

[ special Correspondence of the Alexs. GAZETTF] WASHINGTON, D. C., March 26, 1889.

The pegro Baptist preachers of Washington and some from the neighboring States of those present, named Laws, prepare resolutions to be presented at the next meeting condemnatory of the white Baptist by the disappearance of two youths of Bowlchurch in Richmond, which revoked its in-vitation to Rev. Dr. Falton, the bloody shirt about 15 years old, the other a son of Mr. Baptist preacher of New York, to preach William Hight Covington, aged 13 here say that Mr. Frank Blair, of Virginia, the name of Sewartz, who came there about Mr. Baller sold a cadetship.

Mr. John Wise is in the city to day. He was with his brother, Dr. Richard Wise and Mr. Treat, the latter an applicant for Marshal Scott's place, but what business he was on has not yet transpired. Es-Auditor Brown Allen of Virginia is also here. He originally applied for the place of internal revenue collector for his section of the State, but Mr.

McCaull is General Mahone's favorite for that place, he is now an applicant for a postoffice inspectorship.

The day after Mr. Harrison's inauguration the large number of Virginia republicans then in this city met in a room in the Metropolitan Hotel and divided such federal patrenage as they then supposed would fall to Virginia among themselves, each man selecting the place he wanted, so that there might be no rivalry. They were in the best possible spirits, and were confident that ere this they would be drawing large salaries. Indeed they acted like the negroes after Lincoln's emancipation proclamation; believed they had the world in a sling and that to get anything, it was only requisite to ask for it. A sad change has come over the spirit of their dreams. Hope deferred has made their hearts sick. Those whose money has given out have gone back home with no high opinion of the Harrison administration, sorry looking set, wandering in pairs, triplets, or alone, about the hote s and restaurants, not knowing what to do, and with nobody to tell them. They are ut terly "green," and as ignorant of the successful ways and means of office seeking applications, and have the most remarkable One of them, an applicant for a postoffice in the southwest portion of his State, has no local endorsement, and only that of Colonel Brady and Mr. Gaines, of the Petersburg district. Another one, Dr. Mickie, of Albe marle, as stated in this correspondence of yesterday, in dead seriousness asked Col. Mosby to endorse his application for the Hong Kong consulate, telling him if he would do so, he would recommend him for that at Peking. Another remarkable thing ab ut them is, that mest of them, though trey will take any thing they can get, origiterly incompetent to fill.

The U.S. Supreme Court met to day, but immediately adjourned until to-morrow. The California case was to have been ar gued to-day. This is a habeas corpus case A Chinaman who, when he left this country. obtained the requisite certificate entitling that had been enacted since he left, arrested on landing. His release on habeas corpus was denied, and he appealed to the U. Su reme Court. The government rests its case on the Virginia case of Burroughs vs. Peyton, 16th Grattan. Burroughs, un der the act of the Confederate Congress, put a substitute in the Confederate army coived therefor a certificate of exemption from service. Subsequently the Confederate Congress passed a law putting every man in the service. Under this law Burroughs was conscripted. He applied for release on habeas corpus, but it was denied, and the constitutionality of the law sustained. Judge Robinson, of Virginia, rendered the decision. Among the many 4th class postoffices in Virginia for which the republicans of that State are applying is that at the Plains, in Facquier county, now filled by a lady of that place, who discharges the duties of the office efficiently and to the satisfaction of the people who are served with mail there. She will probably be removed as Mr. Agnew has recommended a man for her p'ace. Col Mosby, who is an old acquaintance of the lady, says he is as good a republican as any other man, but he thinks it a d-1 shame to be making war on women in this way and that it was not so when he had anything to do with Virginia politics. Continuing, the Colonel said he was a true civil service reformer; that if he had been in Mr. Harri son's place he would have made but seven changes—the cabinet officers, and that when vacancies occurred he would have filled them with good and true and efficient republicans, without, however, any civil service examination. Ex Senator Riddleberger has returned, as he at Burch, the ball only striking Burch's says, to do what he can for some of his friends in the way of getting them offices, and retaining them killing Alvis Turner, and then King fired
